McCRAy INDICTED IN EIGHT TRUE BILLS

GOVERNOR CHARGED WITH IRREGULARITIES

Accused in Indictments by Marion County Grand Jury of Embezzlement, Larceny, Forgery, Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses and Issuing Fraudulent Checks, Findings Being Returned at 12:30 Today.

EMBEZZLED STATE MONEY, IS CHARGE

One of Forgery Indictments Lists Ninety-Seven Alleged Forged Notes, a Count Being Based on Each One. Other Charges Are Embezzling $25,000 From Kentland Bank and $155,000 From State Board of Agriculture.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Marion county grand jury, after an investigation that lasted nearly two months, today returned eight indictments, charging Governor Warren T. McCray with irregularities in his financial transactions.

The indictments charged embezzlement, larceny, forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses and issuing fraudulent checks.

The grand jury was in session all morning without hearing any witnesses. At 12:30 o'clock it announced that it was ready to make its report.

One indictment charged embezzlement and grand larceny of $155,000 from the Indiana Board of Agriculture.

Bond of $25,000 was fixed by Criminal Judge Collins on this indictment.

One indictment charges that McCray embezzled $10,000 of state money.

Another charges issuance of false financial statements to banks. There are twenty-four counts in this indictment, that number of banks being listed.

One of the forgery indictments listed ninety-seven alleged forged notes, a count being based upon each one.

Forty-nine notes are listed in an indictment charging false pretense by the use of forged notes.

McCray embezzled $25,000 from the Discount and Deposit bank at Kentland, another indictment charged.

Judge Collins said the bond on the other indictments would be given later.

He said that the capias probably would not be served before Monday by George Snider, sheriff of Marion county.

The Indiana law provides that for conviction on a forgery charge the defendant shall be imprisoned in the state prison not less than two years nor more than fourteen years, and fined not less than $10 or not more than $1,000.

The indictment charging embezzlement of the board of agriculture's money was in thirteen counts.

Witnesses whose names appeared on the back of this indictment were Harry M. Moberly, president of the board; I. Newt Brown, secretary; A. L. Morris, cashier of the Discount and Deposit bank at Kentland, Ind.; James P. Goodrich, former governor and president of the National City Bank of Indianapolis; Clyde A. Wall, republican state chairman; William M. Jones and Thomas Grant, members of the board of agriculture, and Fred A. Sims.

The investigation which lead to the charges against McCray was started at the request of the First National Bank of Marion, Ind. This bank held approximately $22,000 worth of McCray papers and was one of the some two hundred creditors.

When the bank made the request William P. Evans, county prosecutor, asked to be relieved of the duty of conducting the investigation. Evans is a son-in-law of McCray.

Judge James A. Collins of the criminal court appointed Charles W. Moores, former United States commissioner, to conduct the investigation.

The inquiry was started October 5.

Every possible precaution was taken to insure secrecy.

Policemen were stationed on the floor of the court room where the grand jury was located.

As the inquiry started, Judge Collins called in the members of the jury and instructed them it was their duty to investigate all law violations occurring within the county.

Judge James A. Collins, of the Marion county criminal court, today denied that Governor McCray's rights had "been trampled on" because the grand jury investigating his financial affairs did not grant the governor's request that he be permitted to appear before the jury to tell his side of the story.

"Under the law Warren T. McCray could not appear before the grand jury as a matter of right," Judge Collins said. "No one knew this better than his counsel, James W. Noell."

"While the court has no knowledge of the scope of this inquiry, it is impossible to understand upon what theory McCray could learn that his rights are being trampled on."

"No person who has not been summoned by the grand jury has the right to approach the grand jury or any member thereof, in the grand jury room or out of the grand jury room, regarding any matter being investigated by them, either orally or by writing."

"Such a practice would mean the transferring of the trial of the case to the grand jury room and there in secret to try that which should be tried in open court by a petit jury."

MANY VACANCIES COMING

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—Within the next ninety days, twenty-two appointive positions on state commissions and boards of trustees of various state institutions will become vacant. Some of the appointments are honorary, others are salaried, but all are regarded as important.

Embezzling $155,000 from the Indiana Board of Agriculture.
Embezzling $10,000 of state money.
Issuing False Statements to banks.
Issuing forged checks.
False pretenses by use of forged notes.
Embezzling $25,000 from Kentland bank.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN BY POLICE COMMITTEE

Nothing Done Yet Regarding Suggestion of Police Chief That Department be Moved

UP TO COUNCIL, SAYS MAYOR

No action has been taken by the police committee of the city council, as far as could be learned today, concerning any solution of the problem of organizing the police department on a systematic basis.

Orie Blackburn suggested a plan the other day, in which he stated it would be advisable to move the headquarters to a room in the court house, adjacent to the sheriff's office, but so far, this plan has not met with much encouragement from the councilmen.

Mayor Thomas, when interviewed this morning upon the question of the police department, stated that he had not heard of any plan from the councilmen, following his suggestions of ten days ago, in which he told them to get busy and organize the force into a workable body.

The mayor intimated that he was powerless to suggest or order any changes, and that it was up to the council to solve the question. The mayor, however, knows that there are other means of having problems taken up, but he would like to have the matter settled at home among the councilmen.

RETIRED FARMER OF UNION TOWNSHIP DIES

Daniel O'Keefe, 73, Expires This Morning, After Fifty Years Residing in County

FUNERAL SUNDAY AT 10 A. M.

Daniel O'Keefe, a well known retired farmer of Union township, expired this morning at 9 o'clock at his home in Ging Station, death resulting from an illness of several months of complications.

The deceased was born April 9, 1850 in Brown county, Ohio, and was past 73 years of age. His parents were natives of Ireland, and settled in Ohio, and he came to this county almost 50 years ago, renting a farm, and later buying a farm near Ging.

In 1883 he was married to Mrs. Sarah J. (Newkirk) Benson. No children survive from this union, and among those who survive are the widow and two step-sons, Alfred Benson of Knightstown and Delbert Benson of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at the late residence in Ging, at ten o'clock and burial will be in East Hill cemetery, Rushville.

Carthage Youth Convicted of Larceny to be Sentenced

It is understood that a motion for a new trial is to be presented before the sentence is passed, and the defendant's attorneys were given the extra day in which to prepare their motion.

TO CLIMB HOTEL BUILDING

Jack Williams "Human Fly" Who Was Never in Rushville Before

Jack Williams, a "human fly," is scheduled to climb the Windsor hotel building tonight at seven o'clock, according to his advance agent who was in Rushville Thursday, Williams, who has a reputation as being one of the original "flies," has never appeared in Rushville before. He and Harry Gardner are said to be the two original climbers, and Gardner will be recalled as having climbed the court house here.

Williams, according to the advance man, has climbed more than 1,900 buildings, most of which are ten stories high or more, and in 1911 he made a record of climbing the Woolworth building of 55 stories in New York City.

NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL BY MAYOR

Urges Observance of Golden Rule Sunday December 2 as Means of Aiding Orphans

L. LINK LOCAL TREASURER

Contributions May be Left at Rush County National Bank—Sacrificial Meals a Feature

THANKSGIVING IS PAST

The descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers who knelt near Plymouth Rock nearly three centuries ago, and gave thanks for freedom and happiness, were yesterday sitting down to tables laden with good things to eat on that memorable day.

A stern contrast to that is another setting in the far east where past wars have wrecked the lands, from the humblest home to the palace, and where hunger and misery go hand in hand.

I wish to ask our people to observe December 2 as Golden Rule Sunday and that we partake of meals such as the people of the near east have, and the difference in cost be contributed to the near east fund.

There has been no local organization for the observance of Golden Rule Sunday, but the appeal has been so great for the orphans of the near east, who have been supported by Near East Relief for several years past, that many Rushville people indicated that they favor the movement and that they will observe the day by substituting a simple meal for the usual bountiful Sunday dinner.

The object of the sacrificial dinner is for those who eat one to donate the difference between its cost and the one that would ordinarily be served in the home on Sunday.

It will not be necessary for Rushville and Rush county individuals and organizations to send their contributions to Thomas C. Day, Indianapolis, as previously announced, as Lou (Continued on Page 6)

It is customary for the Elks to hold memorial services about this time of year for departed members. No member of the lodge has died since the last lodge of sorrow in December, 1922.

TWO ACCOUNT SUITS FILED

Justice Stech Sets Case For Hearing on December 5

Two suits on accounts have been filed in Justice Stech's court, one being filed by Sam Finney against Harry Adams, in which the plaintiff is seeking to collect $15 on account, and the case has been set for trial December 5 at two o'clock.

In the other complaint, the John C. Groub Company has sued John W. Ryon, the case being on an account, in which the demand is for $10.63. This case will also be heard on December 5, at 10 o'clock.

AN ANNUAL OASIS OF SPIRITUAL REST

The Rev. E. G. McKibben Thus Characterizes Thanksgiving in Sermon at Union Services

THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

If We Keep Aloof From League of Nations, It Will Not be to Evade Responsibility

Thanksgiving union services were held at the Main Street Christian church Thursday evening and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. E. G. McKibben, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

The sermon text was taken from Ephesians, the fifth chapter and twentieth verse, "Giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God even the Father."

"At the call of our president," the pastor said, "we are met to express in a formal way our thanks. Words of appreciation are prized by men and God expects us to thank Him for his bounty. Thanksgiving Day is a national holiday, a sort of harvest home festival, observed from Colonial Days occasionally and by our nation, every year since 1863. It is a sort of annual oasis for spiritual rest and refreshment. It is not a time for boasting or self congratulation; but for the purpose of counting our blessings. The 'all' and the 'always' of our text include everything and exclude nothing on the principle that 'all things work together for good and those that love God.'"

The speaker put in order first of all the things for which we render thanks. They are very many and very great. The place of ordinary things in the economy of nature was shown to be very important. Without water, life would be impossible; without the compass, ships could not navigate the high seas; without the birds, our feathered guardians, rodents and insects would destroy the means of subsistence. The radio enables us to communicate instantly with remote places. These were cited as only samples of ten thousand other things of like nature.

"We thank God for common mercies, abundant crops, spared lives, protected homes, institutions safeguarded by a kindly providence, industrial strife allayed and a job for every man at a living wage," he said. "Add to these things the confidence of faith, the joy of service and the hope for the future and who can but render thanks?"

"We thank God for the political Continued on Page Three

FRED CLEVENGER TO BE TRIED ON DEC. 12

Pleads Not Guilty to Unlawful Transportation Charge And Other Case is Postponed

DAMAGE SUIT SET TUESDAY

Fred Clevenger, who was arrested this week on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor, will face trial on the charge in the circuit court on December 12, according to the court calendar. He appeared this morning in court and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Very little business was scheduled for today in the court, and only a few matters pertaining to cases were taken up.

The case of Fritch against Clevenger, a damage suit, which was set for trial next Tuesday, has been carried over until some time later during the term of court, and the jury which was told to report for the case, will be notified differently, or else another case will be substituted for Tuesday.

The will of the late John Q. Thomas was admitted to probate this morning, with the son, Walter H. Thomas, being granted letters of administration, and bond in the sum of $9,000 was provided.

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method:—Measure off two tablespoonfuls for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten without forming a habit. Again, Kellogg's Bran will free you from drastic, dangerous cathartics.

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not try half-way measures. Foods with a partial bran content cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran to-day! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

situation. There is a place within our borders. On November 11, we rounded out five years since 'The Armistice'—a period of reconstruction along all lines. Our president was taken away, a man beloved and honored, but he has a most worthy successor. In Calvin Coolidge, the silent chieftain, the fearless leader, a man who stands for the very best things in our national life, we have one of whom we are justly proud."

The disposition of our people to share their prosperity with those less fortunate was cited. Millions have been given for the relief of suffering in the Near East, and in the far east. The Yankees of this western world have won the respect of the Yankees of the eastern world and peace seems forever assured with the little brown men of Nippon, the speaker said.

"If we keep aloof from the League of Nations it will not be for the purpose of evading international responsibility, but because we are not able to trust the drunken nations of Europe and who have repudiated the authority of God's word. And His Son," the Rev. Mr. McKibben said.

"We thank God for the religious situation. While little advance is seen along religious lines at home, it has been a time of advance in missions. The various denominations have assured responsibility for definite sections of the heathen world and, over there, there is no overlapping of effort, or unseemly competition.

"In this country we are passing through a period of religious controversy. But even that is a sign of life. Men are willing to contend for the faith.

"Locally there is peace and good will and a fine spirit of unity. Our church doors are open and our church bells send out the call to come and worship God. As a community we have the gospel preached and there is a welcome for all who will come."

The speaker mentioned three things for which we should pray and thank God for any progress that has been made. We pray for Christian rulers, for the reunion of the scattered forces of Christendom and for a true democracy.

In closing the speaker called attention to the theology of the text.

Thanks is to be rendered to God, the Father. His is the source of every blessing, this Giver of every good thing. He gave His Son. He sent the Holy Spirit. He feeds and clothes and shelters us. "He counts the stars and leads out their hosts and not one faileth." To such a one thanks is due.

Thanks is to be given in the name of the Son. Only prayer offered in His name has the promise of being heard. And thanks to God is acceptable only on a like condition.

Tells Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day I saw your little book on my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself.

I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."

FULNESS OF JOY.—Thou wilt shew me the path of life; in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.—Psalms 1: 11.

It's Up to The Council

The suggestion of the chief of police that police headquarters be moved from the city building to the court house, in a room adjoining the sheriff's office, appears to have met with popular approval, judging from the favorable comment that has been heard.

It is clearly within the province of the city council to make the change, if one is made, and thus remove the cause for friction between the police and fire departments. Mayor Thomas says that he expects to leave the whole matter to the council because the council is given authority over the police department by law, with the exception of the chief of police, who is a personal appointment of the mayor.

The change would require the addition of another patrolman, if the ideas of the chief of police were followed out, but adding expense, if it will make the police department of greater service to the people of the city, will scarcely be wasted money.

If the department were located in the court house, there would be something definite and positive about it, whereas now it is chiefly negative, without any directing head, because the chief of police finds it impossible to keep in touch with the patrolmen, without any central agency and means of receiving reports from them.

Of course, there is the detail of arranging for the use of the room in the court house, with the county commissioners, but it is likely that the county authorities would readily assist in any way possible to help the city improve its police department.

Whom The Tax Hurts

When we were small boys we used to engage in a trick that seemed to relieve the perpetrator from responsibility for final results. Getting a lot of boys lined up close together, we would suddenly push the one at the nearest end of the line, whereupon he would transmit the push to the next, and so on until the end boy fell down with his neighbor on top of him. High taxation seems to operate in much the same way. The original impulse is given to the head of the line—the wealthy man who is supposed to be best able to pay because he is doing a big business, but he adds the tax to the cost of the business, and sends it down the line. In the end the consumer gets the jolt and the real injury. The only way to avoid the ultimate result is not to give the line the original push. Reduce the tax.

NEAR EAST RELIEF PLANS
"GOLDEN RULE DAY" FOR WORLD

Sunday Dec. 2nd will be Observed by Fourteen
Nations to aid Near
East Orphans

WILL the Golden Rule work among nations as well as individuals?

Charles V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association and General Secretary of the Near East Relief, thinks that it will, and he and his associates are busy planning for international observance of Sunday, December 2nd, as "Golden Rule Sunday."

On this day millions of families in a dozen different nations will be asked, through the Near East Relief and its affiliated and co-operating organizations, to observe the day as one of international goodwill and, as a practical expression of the Golden Rule principle, to serve a dinner approximately the same as that served every day in the year to the orphan children in the care of the Near East Relief and to contribute the difference between the cost of this meal and the usual Sunday dinner to the support of the orphans.

"Fully five hundred million people in Europe, Asia, Africa, America and Australia, or nearly one-half the population of the globe, are adherents of religions that, in some form, proclaim the Golden Rule as a guide in life," Mr. Vickrey said.

"Certainly if, through no fault of ours, it had been our lot to die in the late war and if our children had been left not only without parents or relatives, but also without a country, we would hope that some co-religionist or other philanthropist would provide for our children at least the necessities of life and an opportunity for attaining self-support."

"Many families and nations regard themselves as poor while indulging in wasteful, non-productive expenditures and consumption of luxuries, the value of which would save a less fortunate family or nation from starvation. Luxurious living and self-indulgence may be as injurious to the prosperous as undernourishment and starvation to the less fortunate."

"As a practical application of the

Chas. V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association, which sponsors Golden Rule Day.

Golden Rule, as an expression of international fellowship and good will and as a source of food supply for the homeless and the starving, an International Golden Rule Dinner is proposed for Sunday, December 2nd.

"On this day all persons who are disposed to make practical application of the Golden Rule are requested to provide for their Sunday dinner the same menu as that approved and used for at least 50,000 orphans in the Near East every day. Of course, in American homes there need be no limitation of quantity as there must, of necessity, be in the Near East orphanages where not a scrap of food is ever wasted."

The difference between the cost of the usual Sunday dinner and the simpler, less expensive orphanage menu is to be made as a contribution and a thank offering for the purchase of food for the orphans of the Near East. In this country people observing the Golden Rule Sunday will send their contribution to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York City and other nations will co-operate on the same day by sending in their contributions through their own national organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of menu to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to National Headquarters of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or to the nearest state office.

A near tragedy occurred at the C. H. & D. crossing in Main street yesterday afternoon. Watt Bartlett and Al Linville were coming down the Main street hill in Bartlett's moving van shortly after 2:30 o'clock and did not hear the approaching train from the east. The horses had placed their front feet upon the track, when the sound of the bell on the engine came to their ears. Linville snatched the lines from Bartlett, who was dismounted, and turned the horses to the right. This sensible move saved their lives.

Harding's Greatest Moment

(Vancouver Sun)

Devoted friends of Warren Gamaliel Harding will raise $3,000,000 by subscription to perpetuate the memory of the only American President who ever spoke on Canadian soil. Half of that sum will be spent on a mausoleum and shrine at Marion, Ohio. The other $1,500,000 will be invested to keep these buildings up forever.

It is a good, wholesome project, and Canadians who can afford it should subscribe liberally in the name of Canadian-American friendship, of which Harding was a champion.

But this $1,500,000 mausoleum will only be a poor imitation of the shrine Warren Harding erected for himself in Vancouver last July.

No monument can be erected now that will equal in stability, force and appeal the picture that thousands of Canadians carry in their memories of this great, generous man, destined so soon for the grave, stretching out both his arms in love and friendship to the Canadian people in the leafy paradise of Stanley Park.

The new sense of international amity engendered that day in Vancouver and spread by word of mouth and the press to every corner of the North American continent is Warren Gamaliel Harding's most beautiful, most useful and most lasting monument.

And if the loving friends who perpetuate his memory seek an inscription for the beautiful shrine they will erect to him they will find no truer than this:

"Here is a man who one summer's day drew two nations closer together in friendship, trust and esteem than any two nations have ever been drawn before."

MANY NEW 'GYMS' BUILT IN STATE

Structures at Columbus and Noblesville Recently Opened For High School Teams

GREAT STRIDES ARE MADE

A Few Years Ago Schools Did Not Have Adequate Places in Which to Play Sports

By VEDDER GARD
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Only a few years ago Indiana had no spacious high school, gymnasium to care for the physical welfare of the students.

Now new structures dot the state and more gyms are being planned in a score of towns and cities.

Gyms at Columbus and Noblesville are the last two to be opened. Martinsville will have a new gym ready for use in a few weeks.

It has all come about because of the tremendous hold basketball has taken upon Indiana. The little halls and small, crowded gyms could not begin to hold the throngs that wished to see the contests.

The players and coaches after participating on the larger college floors in the tourneys came back home with the idea firmly implanted in their minds that the hardwood net game was really a better test of skill on a larger playing space.

The result of the need of space for players and spectators alike was a wide spread agitation for better gyms. In some places, of course, new buildings were out of the question. But many schools have been so fortunate as to obtain adequate playing and seating arrangements in new structures.

The result in most instances has been better teams and better spirit. There is something about a fine new gym that breeds pride in a team and a better feeling of sportsmanship in the onlookers.

And the best part of the whole program is the fact that basketball is not the only athletic use of the gym. The whole school can get exercise in properly conducted physical culture classes. There is an atmosphere of athletic activity around such a school that makes for a sane and healthy outlook for the youth of the community.

The far reaching effects of proper athletics in the high school can not be estimated too highly. The whole school and the entire community are welded closer together by the spirit of loyalty to a team. The weekly net contests is a means for many to get away from the humdrum and thousands of citizens throughout Indiana have made basketball their relaxation from every day affairs.

IN NEED OF REPOSITORY

Curator of State Museum is Working Under Tremendous Handicap

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Indiana is in need of a fitting repository for her many interesting and instructive specimens of natural history. Distinctively Hoosier and relics recalled her past, W. H. Hershman, curator of the museum, said today in commenting on the tremendous handicap under which he is working.

The museum is now located in the basement of the Statehouse. Lighting is entirely artificial, for the museum is in the center of the basement. Space is entirely inadequate he said.

The cases, crowded with valuable specimens, are so close together that a person of more than average proportions has some difficulty crowding between them to gain a glimpse of the exhibits.

The cases themselves are of ancient type. Thousands of specimens are packed away in State Warehouses for lack of space in which to exhibit.

Follow the high school activities of the county by reading the County School Reflector in the Daily Republican every Saturday. It chronicles the interesting happenings in each high school of the county and is written by the students themselves.

Hard-Fought Game

Syracuse went out to Lincoln, Neb., and won from Nebraska University 7 to 0—but not without a struggle. This shows one of the tense moments of the game. H. DeWitz of Nebraska, is carrying the ball.

Business, Not Charity

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 30.—Again the rather lofty minded idea is being advanced that the rich and powerful clubs of the big leagues should turn to charity and help their weaker brethren of the second divisions.

Commissioner Landis suggests to the club owners that the clubs farthest down the lists be given the first crack at players upon whom waivers are asked.

Perhaps this would work the desired effect, but it would be logical for the weak clubs to go out and dig up or buy some new players instead of contending themselves with cheap crumbs from the other tables.

If there are any club owners in the major leagues so poor that they can't afford to buy players, they should get out of baseball.

Everyone in professional baseball is in it as a business to make money. None of them were as frank and as open as Harry Frazee, former owner of the Boston Red Sox, who bought the club to make money and accomplished his purpose by selling every good player he had.

As long as they can make money by the business that the stronger clubs draw for them, most of the poor club owners are satisfied to go along with what they have and get by with cheap players and cheap baseball.

When the need is pointed out for adding strength to the weaker major league clubs, it is not held up as a humanitarian or altruistic need. It is the need or promoting competition to make better business. It has been shown in the past that the only consideration that has to be given to the fans is to give them a team to look at just good enough to keep them going into an open revolt or a boycott.

There is much talk about the lack of sentiment in baseball. Baseball is a big business and there is no sentiment in big business.

When a player has passed his days of usefulness, he goes elsewhere.

RAIN CAUSES CANCELLATION

Thanksgiving Day Football Game at Arlington is Called Off

The Arlington Athletic Club was forced to cancel their football game with the Brookside clubs at Arlington Thanksgiving Day on account of the heavy rain which made play impossible. However, Arlington was very well satisfied with their team showing this season, playing 9 games, winning 3, losing 3, and playing 3 tie games, and scoring 62 points to their opponents 51.

Basketball will be taken up at once and a fast team will be put out if at all possible to do so. The first game will be played at Arlington gym when the Morristown Independents will be the opposition next Thursday night. The Club has a good following and a large crowd will be on hands at the opening game.

McCRA Y INDICTED IN EIGHT TRUE BILLS

GOVERNOR CHARGED WITH IRREGULARITIES

Accused in Indictments by Marion County Grand Jury of Embezzlement, Larceny, Forgery, Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses and Issuing Fraudulent Checks, Findings Being Returned at 12:30 Today.

EMBEZZLED STATE MONEY, IS CHARGE

One of Forgery Indictments Lists Ninety-Seven Alleged Forged Notes, a Count Being Based on Each One. Other Charges Are Embezzling $25,000 From Kentland Bank and $155,000 From State Board of Agriculture.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—The Marion county grand jury, after an investigation that lasted nearly two months, today returned eight indictments, charging Governor Warren T. McCray with irregularities in his financial transactions.

The indictments charged embezzlement, larceny, forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses and issuing fraudulent checks.

The grand jury was in session all morning without hearing any witnesses. At 12:30 o'clock it announced that it was ready to make its report.

One indictment charged embezzlement and grand larceny of $155,000 from the Indiana Board of Agriculture.

Bond of $25,000 was fixed by Criminal Judge Collins on this indictment.

One indictment charges that McCray embezzled $10,000 of state money.

Another charges issuance of false financial statements to banks. There are twenty-four counts in this indictment, that number of banks being listed.

One of the forgery indictments listed ninety-seven alleged forged notes, a count being based upon each one.

Forty-nine notes are listed in an indictment charging false pretense by the use of forged notes.

McCray embezzled $25,000 from the Discount and Deposit bank at Kentland, another indictment charged.

Judge Collins said the bond on the other indictments would be given later.

He said that the capias probably would not be served before Monday by George Snider, sheriff of Marion county.

The Indiana law provides that for conviction on a forgery charge the defendant shall be imprisoned in the state prison not less than two years nor more than fourteen years, and fined not less than $10 or not more than $1,000.

The indictment charging embezzlement of the board of agriculture's money was in thirteen counts.

Witnesses whose names appeared on the back of this indictment were Harry M. Mohrly, president of the board; L. Newt Brown, secretary; A. L. Morris, cashier of the Discount and Deposit bank at Kentland, Ind.; James P. Goodrich, former governor and president of the National City Bank of Indianapolis; Clyde A. Walb, republican state chairman; William M. Jones and Thomas Grant, members of the board of agriculture, and Fred A. Sims.

The investigation which led to the charges against McCray was started at the request of the First National Bank of Marion, Ind. This bank held approximately $22,000 worth of McCray papers and was one of the some two hundred creditors.

When the bank made the request William P. Evans, county prosecutor, asked to be relieved of the duty of conducting the investigation. Evans is a son-in-law of McCray.

Judge James A. Collins of the criminal court appointed Charles W. Moores, former United States commissioner, to conduct the investigation.

The inquiry was started October 5,

NO ACTION IS TAKEN BY POLICE COMMITTEE

Nothing Done Yet Regarding Suggestion of Police Chief That Department be Moved

UP TO COUNCIL, SAYS MAYOR

No action has been taken by the police committee of the city council, as far as could be learned today, concerning any solution of the problem of organizing the police department on a systematic basis.

Orie Blackburn suggested a plan the other day, in which he stated it would be advisable to move the headquarters to a room in the court house, adjacent to the sheriff's office, but so far, this plan has not met with much encouragement from the councilmen.

Mayor Thomas, when interviewed this morning upon the question of the police department, stated that he had not heard of any plan from the councilmen, following his suggestions of ten days ago, in which he told them to get busy and organize the force into a workable body.

The mayor intimated that he was powerless to suggest or order any changes, and that it was up to the council to solve the question. The mayor, however, knows that there are other means of having problems taken up, but he would like to have the matter settled at home among the councilmen.

RETIRED FARMER OF UNION TOWNSHIP DIES

Daniel O'Keefe, 73, Expires This Morning, After Fifty Years Residing in County

FUNERAL SUNDAY AT 10 A. M.

Daniel O'Keefe, a well known retired farmer of Union township, expired this morning at 9 o'clock at his home in Ging Station, death resulting from an illness of several months of complications.

The deceased was born April 9, 1850 in Brown county, Ohio, and was past 73 years of age. His parents were natives of Ireland, and settled in Ohio, and he came to this county almost 50 years ago, renting a farm, and later buying a farm near Ging.

In 1883 he was married to Mrs. Sarah J. (Newkirk) Benson. No children survive from this union, and among those who survive are the widow and two step-sons, Alfred Benson of Knightstown and Delbert Benson of Indianapolis.

The funeral services will be held Sunday morning at the late residence in Ging, at ten o'clock and burial will be in East Hill cemetery, Rushville.

Jack Williams, a "human fly," is scheduled to climb the Windsor hotel building tonight at seven o'clock, according to his advance agent who was in Rushville Thursday, Williams, who has a reputation as being one of the original "flies," has never appeared in Rushville before. He and Harry Gardner are said to be the two original climbers, and Gardner will be recalled as having climbed the court house here.

NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL BY MAYOR

Urges Observance of Golden Rule Sunday December 2 as Means of Aiding Orphans

L. LINK LOCAL TREASURER

THANKSGIVING IS PAST

The descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers who knelt near Plymouth Rock nearly three centuries ago, and gave thanks for freedom and happiness, were yesterday sitting down to tables laden with good things to eat on that memorable day.

A stern contrast to that is another setting in the far east where past wars have wrecked the lands, from the humblest home to the palace, and where hunger and misery go hand in hand.

I wish to ask our people to observe December 2 as Golden Rule Sunday and that we partake of meals such as the people of the near east have, and the difference in cost be contributed to the near east fund.

There has been no local organization for the observance of Golden Rule Sunday, but the appeal has been so great for the orphans of the near east, who have been supported by Near East Relief for several years past, that many Rushville people indicated that they favor the movement and that they will observe the day by substituting a simple meal for the usual bountiful Sunday dinner.

The object of the sacrificial dinner is for those who eat one to donate the difference between its cost and the one that would ordinarily be served in the home on Sunday.

It will not be necessary for Rushville and Rush-county individuals and organizations to send their contributions to Thomas C. Day, Indianapolis, as previously announced, as Len (Continued on Page 4)

AN ANNUAL OASIS OF SPIRITUAL REST

The Rev. E. G. McKibben Thus Characterizes Thanksgiving in Sermon at Union Services

THINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

If We Keep Aloof From League of Nations, It Will Not be to Evade Responsibility

Thanksgiving union services were held at the Main Street Christian church Thursday evening and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. E. G. McKibben, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

The sermon text was taken from Ephesians, the fifth chapter and twentieth verse, "Giving thanks always for all things, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God even the Father."

"At the call of our president," the pastor said, "we are met to express in a formal way our thanks. Words of appreciation are prized by men and God expects us to thank Him for his bounty. Thanksgiving Day is a national holiday, a sort of harvest home festival, observed from Colonial Days occasionally and by our nation, every year since 1863. It is a sort of annual oasis for spiritual rest and refreshment. It is not a time for boasting or self congratulation; but for the purpose of counting our blessings. The 'all' and the 'always' of our text include everything and exclude nothing on the principle that 'all things work together for good and those that love God.'"

The speaker put in order first of all the things for which we render thanks. They are very many and very great. The place of ordinary things in the economy of nature was shown to be very important. Without water, life would be impossible; without the compass, ships could not navigate the high seas; without the birds, our feathered guardians, rodents and insects would destroy the means of subsistence. The radio enables us to communicate instantly with remote places. These were cited as only samples of ten thousand other things of like nature.

"We thank God for common mercies, abundant crops, spared lives, protected homes, institutions safeguarded by a kindly providence, industrial strife allayed and a job for every man at a living wage," he said. "Add to these things the confidence of faith, the joy of service and the hope for the future and who can but render thanks?"

"We thank God for the political (Continued on Page Three)

FRED CLEVENGER TO BE TRIED ON DEC. 12

Pleads Not Guilty to Unlawful Transportation Charge And Other Case is Postponed

DAMAGE SUIT SET TUESDAY

Fred Clevenger, who was arrested this week on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor, will face trial on the charge in the circuit court on December 12, according to the court calendar. He appeared this morning in court and entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Very little business was scheduled for today in the court, and only a few matters pertaining to cases were taken up.

The case of Fritch against Clevenger, a damage suit, which was set for trial next Tuesday, has been carried over until some time later during the term of court, and the jury which was told to report for the case, will be notified differently, or else another case will be substituted for Tuesday.

The will of the late John Q. Thomas was admitted to probate this morning, with the son, Walter H. Thomas, being granted letters of administration, and bond in the sum of $9,000 was provided.

Here's a popular way to serve
Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families cut it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method—Measure off two table spoonfuls for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

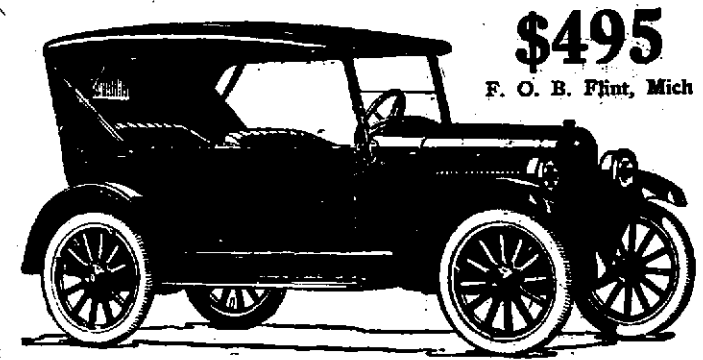

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten without forming a habit. Again, Kellogg's Bran will free you from drastic, dangerous cathartics.

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not take a half-way measure. Foods with a partial laxative cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran to-day! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

situation. There is a place within our borders. On November 11, we rounded out five years since "The Armistice"—a period of reconstruction along all lines. Our president was taken away, a man beloved and honored, but he has a most worthy successor. In Calvin Coolidge, the silent chieftain, the fearless leader, a man who stands for the very best things in our national life, we have one of whom we are justly proud.

The disposition of our people to share their prosperity with those less fortunate was cited. Millions have been given for the relief of suffering in the Near East, and in the far east. The Yankees of this western world have won the respect of the Yankees of the eastern world, and peace seems forever assured with the little brown men of Nippon, the speaker said.

"If we keep aloof from the League of Nations it will not be for the purpose of evading international responsibility, but because we are not able to trust the drunken nations of Europe and who have repudiated the authority of God's word, and His Son," the Rev. Mr. McKibben said.

"We thank God for the religious situation. While little advance is seen along religious lines at home, it has been a time of advance in missions. The various denominations have assumed responsibility for definite sections of the heathen world and, over there, there is no overlapping of effort, or unseemly competition.

"In this country we are passing through a period of religious controversy. But even that is a sign of life. Men are willing to contend for the faith.

"Locally there is peace and good will and a fine spirit of unity. Our church doors are open and our church bells send out the call to come and worship God. As a community we have the gospel preached and there is a welcome for all who will come."

The speaker mentioned three things for which we should pray and thank God for any progress that has been made. We pray for Christian rulers, for the reunion of the scattered forces of Christendom and for a true democracy.

In closing the speaker called attention to the theology of the text.

Thanks is to be rendered to God, the Father. His is the source of every blessing; this Giver of every good thing. He gave His Son. He sent the Holy Spirit. He feeds and clothes and shelters us. "He counts the stars and leads out their hosts and not one faileth." To such a one thanks is due.

Thanks is to be given in the name of the Son. Only prayer offered in His name has the promise of being heard. And thanks to God is acceptable only on a like condition.

MRS. HINCKLEY NERVOUS WRECK

Tell Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw my little book on to my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself."

I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of that bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health."

FULNESS OF JOY:—Thou wilt shew me the path of life; in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.—Psalms 1: 11.

It's Up to The Council

The suggestion of the chief of police that police headquarters be moved from the city building to the court house, in a room adjoining the sheriff's office, appears to have met with popular approval, judging from the favorable comment that has been heard.

It is clearly within the province of the city council to make the change, if one is made, and thus remove the cause for friction between the police and fire departments. Mayor Thomas says that he expects to leave the whole matter to the council because the council is given authority over the police department by law, with the exception of the chief of police, who is a personal appointee of the mayor.

The change would require the addition of another patrolman, if the ideas of the chief of police were followed out, but adding expense, if it will make the police department of greater service to the people of the city, will scarcely be wasted money.

If the department were located in the court house, there would be something definite and positive about it, whereas now it is chiefly negative, without any directing head, because the chief of police finds it impossible to keep in touch with the patrolmen, without any central agency and means of receiving reports from them.

Of course, there is the detail of arranging for the use of the room in the court house, with the county commissioners, but it is likely that the county authorities would readily assist in any way possible to help the city improve its police department.

Whom The Tax Hurts

When we were small boys we used to engage in a trick that seemed to relieve the perpetrator from responsibility for final results. Getting a lot of boys lined up close together, we would suddenly push the one at the nearest end of the line, whereupon he would transmit the push to the next, and so on until the end boy fell down with his neighbor on top of him. High taxation seems to operate in much the same way. The original impulse is given to the head of the line—the wealthy man who is supposed to be best able to pay because he is doing a big business, but he adds the tax to the cost of the business, and sends it down the line. In the end the consumer gets the jolt and the real injury. The only way to avoid the ultimate result is not to give the line the original push. Reduce the tax.

Musician Out of Tune

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayer's Wonderful Remedy and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. —Advertisement

NEAR EAST RELIEF PLANS
"GOLDEN RULE DAY" FOR WORLD

Sunday Dec. 2nd will be
Observed by Fourteen
Nations to aid Near
East Orphans

ALL the Golden Rule work among nations as well as individuals?

Charles V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association and General Secretary of the Near East Relief, thinks that it will, and he and his associates are busy planning for international observance of Sunday, December 2nd, as "Golden Rule Sunday."

On this day millions of families in a dozen different nations will be asked, through the Near East Relief and its affiliated and co-operating organizations, to observe the day as one of international goodwill and, as a practical expression of the Golden Rule principle, to serve a dinner approximately the same as that served every day in the year to the orphan children in the care of the Near East Relief and to contribute the difference between the cost of this meal and the usual Sunday dinner to the support of the orphans.

"Fully five hundred million people in Europe, Asia, Africa, America and Australia, or nearly one-half the population of the globe, are adherents of religions that, in some form, proclaim the Golden Rule as a guide in life," Mr. Vickrey said.

"Certainly if, through no fault of ours, it had been our lot to die in the late war and if our children had been left not only without parents or relatives, but also without a country, we would hope that some co-religionist or other philanthropist would provide for our children at least the necessities of life and an opportunity for attaining self-support.

"Many families and nations regard themselves as poor while indulging in wasteful, non-productive expenditures and consumption of luxuries, the value of which would save a less fortunate family or nation from starvation. Luxurious living and self-indulgence may be as injurious to the prosperous as undernourishment and starvation to the less fortunate.

"As a practical application of the

Chas. V. Vickrey, President of the International Near East Association, which sponsors Golden Rule Day.

Golden Rule, as an expression of international fellowship and good will and as a source of food supply for the homeless and the starving, an International Golden Rule Dinner is proposed for Sunday, December 2nd.

"On this day all persons who are disposed to make practical application of the Golden Rule are requested to provide for their Sunday dinner the same menu as that approved and used for at least 50,000 orphans in the Near East every day. Of course, in American homes there need be no limitation of quantity as there must, of necessity, be in the Near East orphanages where not a scrap of food is ever wasted."

The difference between the cost of the usual Sunday dinner and the simpler, less expensive orphanage menu is to be made as a contribution and thank offering for the purchase of food for the orphans of the Near East. In this country people observing the Golden Rule Sunday will send their contribution to the Near East Relief headquarters in New York City and other nations will co-operate on the same day by sending in their contributions through their own national organizations.

Details as to the proper sort of menu to serve on Golden Rule Day may be obtained by writing to National Headquarters of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York City, or to the nearest state office.

AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Tuesday, December 1, 1908

Cigars and apples were in order in the county clerk's office today when William A. Posey and his assistant, Will McGolgin, retired in favor of County Clerk-elect Vern Norris and his assistant, Birney Spradling. Mr. Norris did not know that he had so many friends until today when they all came around to eat and smoke on him.

Arrangements are under way to erect a new $15,000 Christian church in Arlington.

Miss Sadie Holmes and Mr. Charles Stiers were quietly married this afternoon at three o'clock at the home of the bride's brother, Orion Holmes, in North Morgan street.

Miss Mary Amos gave a silver shower yesterday afternoon between the hours of three and five at her home in North Perkins street in honor of Miss Bertha Megee, who is to be married tonight to Derby Green.

A near tragedy occurred at the C. H. & D. crossing in Main street yesterday afternoon. Watt Bartlett and Al Linville were coming down the Main street hill in Bartlett's moving van shortly after 2:30 o'clock and did not hear the approaching train from the east. The horses had placed their front feet upon the track, when the sound of the bell on the engine came to their ears. Linville snatched the lines from Bartlett, who was dismounted, and turned the horses to the right. This sensible move saved their lives.

Clifford Caldwell of Oklahoma, who is here to assist in settling the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Ann E. Caldwell was the guest of Mrs. Cy Bowen at their home in the Pinhook neighborhood over Sunday.

Miss Katherine Wallace returned yesterday to her home in New Castle, after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caron in North Perkins street.

Harry Carr of Chicago was called here Monday by the death of his niece, Janet Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood Bishop have moved to their new home bought of Will Keck, northeast of this city.

Miss Mary Ames will return to DePauw University tomorrow to resume her studies after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ames in North Perkins street.

Current Comment

Harding's Greatest Moment
(J. Vancouver Sun)

Devoted friends of Warren Gamaliel Harding will raise $3,000,000 by subscription to perpetuate the memory of the only American President who ever spoke on Canadian soil. Half of that sum will be spent on a mausoleum and shrine at Marion, Ohio. The other $1,500,000 will be invested to keep these buildings up forever.

It is a good, wholesome project, and Canadians who can afford it should subscribe liberally in the name of Canadian-American friendship, of which Harding was a champion.

But this $1,500,000 mausoleum will only be a poor imitation of the shrine Warren Harding erected for himself in Vancouver last July.

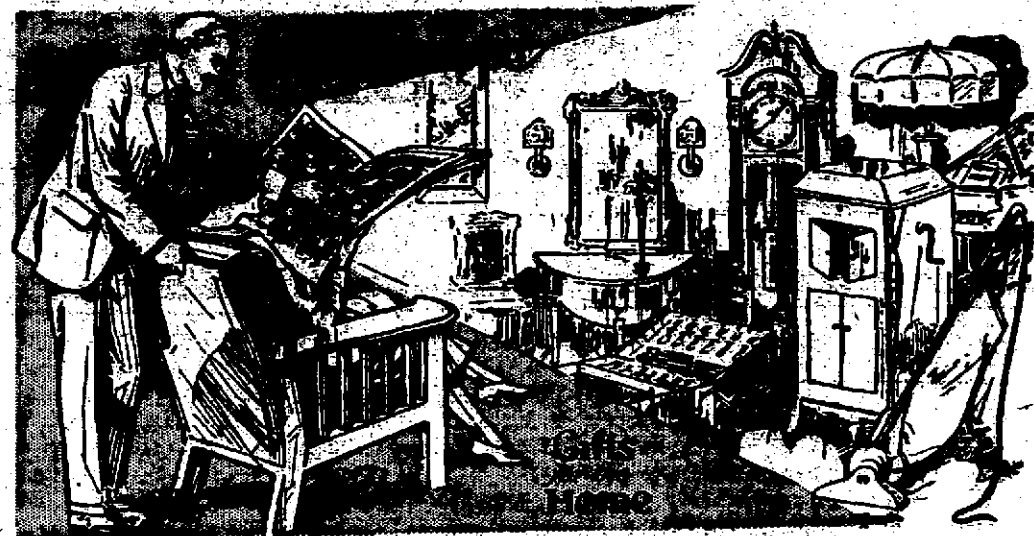

No monument can be erected now that will equal in stability, force and appeal the picture that thousands of Canadians carry in their memories of this great, generous man, destined so soon for the grave, stretching out both his arms in love and friendship to the Canadian people in the leafy paradise of Stanley Park.

The new sense of international amity engendered that day in Vancouver and spread by word of mouth and the press to every corner of the North American continent is Warren Gamaliel Harding's most beautiful, most useful and most lasting monument.

And if the loving friends who perpetuate his memory seek an inscription for the beautiful shrine they will erect to him they will find no truer than this:

"Here is a man who one summer's day drew two nations closer together in friendship, trust and esteem than any two nations have ever been drawn before."

Martinsville—Mrs. Cora Derech chased Bob Sullivan out of the city court room when he testified that he did not owe her the $7 mentioned in a suit. Police rescued Bob before he had been badly injured.

Kelp-O-Dine supplies your body with just the right amount of iodine it must have to function properly. Kelp-O-Dine brings you health from the sea, where it is made, the source of the indispensable iodides. It is iodine in nature's form. Agreeable, effective. It prevents and relieves simple goitre. Your body must have iodine. Kelp-O-Dine supplies it; it is the right kind, the right amount. Get a bottle today. At good druggists—one dollar.

then tumble at the hands of some farm town, like some other teams in this part of the state do.

We guess Connersville and Shelbyville are still playing. We never did hear what the score was Wednesday night.

—PHEW! WHAT A STINK WE STARTED

From the Press Box, in the Kokomo Tribune, he quotes as follows: Hittin' 'Em of Rushville pulled a stinking trick on Newcastle. He offers the suggestion that the Rose City, since many of the teams are using the names of various animals to represent their crews, call its basketballers the "Polecats" a name hitherto unused in the state.

We'd Prefer Turkey
Eaton, Delaware county, is a hard job, but Muncie may have to do it.

Herman Phillips, former Rushville high school star, is holding down floor guard position on the Butler Freshman team. Its only a step to the varsity, and we soon expect to see him in the regular line-up.

Frankfort also predicts a winner for their second team. Look's like it is going to be some season for the seconds, with about a dozen claiming early footholds on the pennant.

TWO NEWCOMERS
Franklin Miller and Ray Lakin are two, new additions to the varsity squad for Rushville. They might be given a workout at Newcastle tonight.

For Swollen Joints

Most remedies fail but Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's for joint troubles only, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not.

It limbers up stiff, inflamed, painful, creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished.

Two seconds' rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask any reliable druggist. Druggists everywhere.

MANY NEW 'GYMS'
BUILT IN STATE

Structures at Columbus and Noblesville Recently Opened For High School Teams

GREAT STRIDES ARE MADE

A Few Years Ago Schools Did Not Have Adequate Places in Which to Play Sports

By VEDDER GARD
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Only a few years ago Indiana had no spacious high school gymnasium to care for the physical welfare of the students.

Now new structures dot the state and more gyms are being planned in a score of towns and cities.

Gyms at Columbus and Noblesville are the last two to be opened. Martinsville will have a new gym ready for use in a few weeks.

It has all come about because of the tremendous hold basketball has taken upon Indiana. The little halls and small, crowded gyms could not begin to hold the throngs that wished to see the contests.

The players and coaches after participating on the larger college floors in the tourneys came back home with the idea firmly implanted in their minds that the hardwood net game was really a better test of skill on a larger playing space.

The result of the need of space for players and spectators alike was a wide spread agitation for better gyms. In some places, of course, new buildings were out of the question. But many schools have been so fortunate as to obtain adequate playing and seating arrangements in new structures.

The result in most instances has been better teams and better spirit. There is something about a fine new gym that breeds pride in a team and a better feeling of sportsmanship in the onlookers.

And the best part of the whole program is the fact that basketball is not the only athletic use of the gym. The whole school can get exercise in properly conducted physical culture classes. There is an atmosphere of athletic activity around such a school that makes for a sane and healthy outlook for the youth of the community.

The far reaching effects of proper athletics in the high school can not be estimated too highly. The whole school and the entire community are welded closer together by the spirit of loyalty to a team. The weekly net contests is a means for many to get away from the humdrum and thousands of citizens throughout Indiana have made basketball their relaxation from every day affairs.

IN NEED OF REPOSITORY

Curator of State Museum is Working Under Tremendous Handicap

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Indiana is in need of a fitting repository for her many interesting and instructive specimens of natural history. Distinctively Hoosier and relics recalled her past, W. H. Hershman, curator of the museum, said today in commenting on the tremendous handicap under which he is working.

The museum is now located in the basement of the Statehouse. Lighting is entirely artificial, for the museum is in the center of the basement. Space is entirely inadequate he said.

The cases, crowded with valuable specimens, are so close together that a person of more than average proportions has some difficulty crowding between them to gain a glimpse of the exhibits.

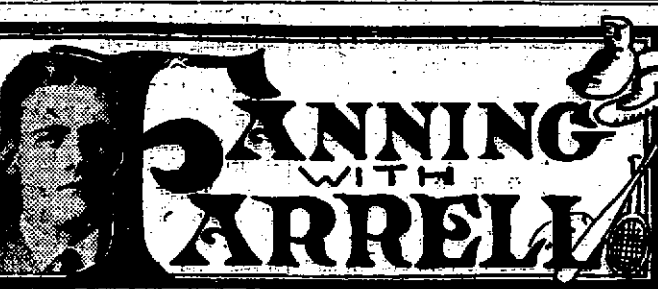

The cases themselves are of ancient type. Thousands of specimens are packed away in State Warehouses for lack of space in which to exhibit.

Follow the high school activities of the county by reading the County School Reflector in the Daily Republican every Saturday. It chronicles the interesting happenings in each high school of the county and is written by the students themselves.

Hard-Fought Game

Syracuse went out to Lincoln, Neb., and won from Nebraska University 7 to 6—but not without a struggle. This shows one of the tense moments of the game. H. DeWitts of Nebraska, is carrying the ball.

Business, Not Charity

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 30.—Again the rather lofty minded idea is being advanced that the rich and powerful clubs of the big leagues should turn to charity and help their weaker brethren of the second divisions.

Commissioner Landis suggests to the club owners that the clubs farthest down the lists be given the first crack at players upon whom waivers are asked.

Perhaps this would work the desired effect, but it would be logical for the weak clubs to go out and dig up or buy some new players instead of contending themselves with cheap crumbs from the other tables.

If there are any club owners in the major leagues so poor that they can't afford to buy players, they should get out of baseball.

Everyone in professional baseball is in it as a business to make money. None of them were as frank and as open as Harry Trazee, former owner of the Boston Red Sox, who bought the club to make money and accomplished his purpose by selling every good player he had.

As long as they can make money by the business that the stronger clubs draw forth, most of the poor club owners are satisfied to go along with what they have and get by with cheap players and cheap baseball.

When the need is pointed out for adding strength to the weaker major league clubs, it is not held up as a humanitarian or altruistic need. It is the need or promoting competition to make better business. It has been shown in the past that the only consideration that has to be given to the fans is to give them a team to look at just good enough to keep them going into an open revolt or a boycott.

There is much talk about the lack of sentiment in baseball. Baseball is a big business and there is no sentiment in big business.

When a player has passed his days of usefulness, he goes elsewhere.

RAIN CAUSES CANCELLATION

Thanksgiving Day Football Game at Arlington Is Called Off

The Arlington Athletic Club was forced to cancel their football game with the Brookside clubs at Arlington Thanksgiving Day on account of the heavy rain which made play impossible. However, Arlington was very well satisfied with their team showing this season, playing 9 games, winning 3, losing 3, and playing 3 tie games, and scoring 62 points to their opponents 51.

Basketball will be taken up at once and a fast team will be put out if at all possible to do so. The first game will be played at Arlington gym when the Morristown Independents will be the opposition next Thursday night. The Club has a good following and a large crowd will be on hands at the opening game.
